CONSPIRACY.

The crowing conspiracy of hill against silver has been announced by Mr. Cortley, within the past week, and that is if it becomes necessary he will redeem standard silver dollars in gold; another endless chain is to be started if the should remain as Secretary of the Treasury or any Republican gets his place. Can it be that the man is mad? Does he have no life's despair to destroy the Republic?
He who does not see the tendency of it all, does not want to see the Republic.

WON'T SERVE.

Hon. J. A. Sullivan has tendered his resignation as elector of the 8th district. All good men ought to be advanced to have their names published with a list of voters and party destroyers, especially in a covert way.
No man has ever been a more faithful public servant than Mr. Sullivan. The most of those he now, by his conduct, treats as dishonest and ignorant men, are those who stood by and elected him. We know they will appreciate this step on his part, and that they would open wide their arms if he would only tear away from his corporate environment and take up the cause of the people against those bent on their destruction.

MADISON AT LEXINGTON.

Near one thousand of Madison's citizens went to Lexington last Tuesday to see W. J. Bryan. We doubt if ever a more pleasant day was spent by those who went. We think the unanimous verdict the next day that they had never seen such a happy assemblage of persons. When a man is happy he thinks everybody else is.
All said they had never seen such a crowd before. It was amusing to hear it estimated. Many of the admirers of our chiefman were willing to swear that two hundred thousand of Kentucky's chivalry had met to honor their leader.
Big Sam D. said this settles Kentucky. There are enough men here to-day yelling themselves hoarse to give him Kentucky's vote and he said he could tell by the way a fellow hollered how he would vote.

CAUSES OF HEADACHE.

The ordinary headache which is so extremely common among the inhabitants of our Atlantic seaboard towns is the outcome of conditions affecting the system through impoverished blood containing poisonous matter absorbed from badly digested food. So-called liver torpidity and the catarrhal affections due to irregular and fast living, play an important part in its causation. Nervous strain, especially of the eyes, and inflamed tissues about the internal bones of the nose are special causes. Nervous irritation, which is not poorly understood by the general reader, is a prolific cause of so-called nervous headache. I know of no more dangerous practice than to treat headache pain blindly with drugs. Of course, outdoor exercise is the best remedy for permanent cure. It is very easy to relieve most forms of headache by means of the coal-tar derivatives, of which so many are in the drug market. These form the basis of the many headache cures found on the drugstore shelves. Their use is not entirely without danger, for they are powerful heart depressants if taken in doses of any considerable size.—Dr. Cyrus Edson in Aug. Ladies' Home Journal.

REPUTATION OR ROBBER.

A few days since a very animated conversation was heard in Richmond. One of the parties said with great vehemence: "I loaned you money worth 100 cents and do you think it right to pay me back with 50 cents?"

KENTUCKY NEWS.

The Latest News From All Parts of the Commonwealth.

LARGE APPLE TREE.

It Measures Three Feet Seven Inches Around the Trunk and is Upwards of 75 Feet High.

SHREVEPORT, Ky., Sept. 21.—The largest tree in the Kentucky mountains can be seen in the farm of James L. Webb, a prosperous old farmer here. The tree was planted by Webb himself nearly sixty years ago, and today it looks to be a mammoth poplar or walnut, and still bears a large quantity of fruit. It measures 104 feet around, 2 feet 7 inches high, and is upward of 75 feet high.

Last year nearly 800 bushels of the finest apples were gathered from its massive limbs, and it has a good supply this year. On the same farm there are several other large apple trees, ranging in size from 2 1/2 to 3 feet through and from 5 to 10 feet high, and a visitor would think he had struck a good forest.

Spider's Web.
NICHOLASVILLE, Ky., Sept. 21.—Engelger G. W. Worman, of Livingston, was bitten by a spider of the ordinary species. At first he paid no attention to the bite, thinking it was of no account to anything serious, but now he is of a different opinion. He was bitten on the left hand and his arm is now swollen to twice its ordinary size. It is probable that his bite system is poisoned and the physicians are alarmed over his condition.

Has Newton's Third Trial.
FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 21.—Joe Newton has now had three trials for the killing of Jeff Lucas at the Forks of Elkhorn two years ago and still he does not know his fate. In the first trial he was acquitted, in the second he was found guilty and sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of two years.

Two Years for Murder.
CAMPBELLVILLE, Ky., Sept. 21.—In commonwealth vs. Randall Purdy for the murder of Wm. Oakes on May 1, 1893, at an election at Little Pineham, for which he was only recently arrested in Henderson county and brought to trial at the penitentiary term of the Taylor circuit court, the jury returned a verdict of guilty and confinement in the penitentiary for a term of two years.

Held for Robbery.
LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 21.—A. H. Anderson, claiming Chicago as his home, was found guilty of the grand jury by Judge Elliott to answer a charge of robbery. Testimony established that Anderson is the man who, during the big Bryan campaign, broke into and robbed the Louisville Southern ticket office of $124.

Kentucky's Big Turn Out.
RICHMOND, Ky., Sept. 21.—The corn crop of Central Kentucky will be enormous this year and already it is being offered at 50 cents a bushel, which is probably the lowest price ever reached in this section. The prominent farmers of the county are offering 2,500 bushels at the price.

An Interview.
FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 21.—It leaks out that there is a deal on between the railroad throughout the south to increase freight rates on St. Louis, Louisville and Cincinnati. The points, the increase will be about one-third. It will go into effect in a week or ten days.

A Personal Parity.

TOLL GATE WAR.

The Latest News in Washington County, Kentucky, Blown Up by Dynamite.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 21.—The toll gate war in Washington county was blown up by dynamite Thursday night. No toll is now being collected on any pile in the county. Washington county has been in a turmoil for two weeks over the toll gate matter. The trouble grew out of the effort made at last November's election to make all turnpikes in the county free. The question was put to a vote of the people and it carried by a very large majority. A week ago last Saturday was set as the last day the gates would be tolled, but as no one was close to remove a band of 100 men divided into squads, went into different parts of the county and cut down thirteen gates. Two men were arrested the Monday following, but gave bail and were released. Then information was received that if any more arrests were made the town of Springfield would be burned. This alarmed the citizens, and during the past week the town has been heavily guarded night and day. From this the regulators have been at work, and the toll gates have been removed, at least for the present.

In Prison.
A New York Man Will Spend His Hour.

SOMERSET, Ky., Sept. 21.—Clarence Whitfield and Clara Buttman, of this city, were married by Rev. William P. Hall. After the marriage ceremony was performed Thomas Phillips, of Louisville, arrived in town and had Chief of Police R. O. Hughes arrest the newly married couple. Whitfield was arrested for leaving $20 from Phillips, who claims he is the husband of "Miss Buttman." Miss Buttman, alias Phillips, and Whitfield were arrested for leaving $20 from Phillips, who claims he is the husband of "Miss Buttman." The case was given to the jury for the third time. Again the jury spent several hours in deliberation, but came back into court, told the judge it could not agree and was dismissed.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 21.—The burial of John Douglas, the hypnotist, in Belt Line park, has created something of a sensation. All day the park has been crowded with persons, each eager to peer down the tube upon the face of the apparently dead body six feet under ground.

Among the visitors
Charles Clifton Moore, the editor of an infidel paper, and a local politician, who believed the burial was a fake, and that he would not be convinced otherwise until he had himself experienced it. He went to try his right there, but Boone told him he could not handle more than one subject at a time, and that if Col. Moore would come down to the Lexington opera house next Friday night he would take care of him as soon as he relieves Douglas of the spell. Moore told Boone he would be there, and that he would bring a coffin with him, and that he would pay Boone for his trouble if he succeeded in hypnotizing him. Boone "in addition to this," said Moore, "if you do hypnotize me you can put me in the coffin, sew it down tight and bury me anywhere and as long as you please. This he put in writing. ARKANSAS VS. VERMONT.
What Figure the Silver Question Out in the Election.

Two states have just held their elections. In Arkansas the vote went heavily republican, and in Arkansas, of course, went heavily democratic. On its face, it appears to be a stand-off; but a moment's reflection will show that it is not so. In Arkansas the vote went heavily republican, and in Arkansas, of course, went heavily democratic. On its face, it appears to be a stand-off; but a moment's reflection will show that it is not so.

The Silver Question.
The silver question was in no sense a square issue in Vermont. In Arkansas, through the question of free coinage was the only issue, and the democratic vote, according to the latest figures, shows a net gain of from 15,000 to 20,000. The majority is estimated at fully 60,000. It is perfectly safe to say that Mr. Bryan's majority in November will be 10,000 greater. The populists will all vote for him and so will many other republican voters who do not support a democratic state ticket.

Moreover, Arkansas may be fairly deemed a barometer of sentiment in the western states.
If the silver issue has not been there it has not been so much in Missouri—National Bimetallist.
